Dog Breed: Cocker Spaniel
Artwork: The Beat of Wings
Artist: Roy Andersen
Fun Fact: A Cocker Spaniel was the first Cancer-Detecting Dog. Dogs can find cancer samples through scent, which a Cocker Spaniel named Tangle first proved to be true.

---

Dog Breed: Golden Retriever
Artwork: Golden Heritage
Artist: Jerry Gadamus
Fun Fact: Golden Retrievers originate from Scotland, despite previous theories they came from Russian circus dogs.

---

Dog Breed: Irish Terrier
Artwork: Irish Terrier Puppies
Artist: John Fitz Marshall
Fun Fact: Irish Terriers were used as messenger and sentinel dogs in World War I.

---

Dog Breed: Smooth Fox Terrier
Artwork: Holme Lacy Matthew
Artist: John Emms
Fun Fact: During fox hunting, Smooth Fox Terriers would ride in the saddlebag on the horse and then released when needed by the hunter.

Crafting the Collection

Christine Truesdell Shreve is an American artist whose work had been on display at the Art Show at the Dog Show. In her painting, Bullmastiff, Christine creates an up close image of a Bullmastiff dog’s face. Notice the detail she puts into the fur of the dog and how the painting crops out most of the animal’s body.

Despite only getting a small cropped image of the big canine, Cristine is able to capture a lot of texture, emotion, and personality in the painting. In the box below, draw a detailed image of a section of the dog. Do not draw the entire animal, instead, pick one specific body part or area of the dog.
Which part of the dog did you decide to draw and why?

Speed Sketch Game

Game Preparation:
- Find three or more players to play with you.
- Cut out all the game cards and shuffle them into a neat pile facing down.
- Find a 60 seconds timer (cooking timer, phone, laptop, sand glass, etc.)
- Grab pencils and paper of any kind.

Directions:
- To begin the game divide all the players into two teams (minimum of four people to play the game).
- Each team should have paper and a pencil.
- Flip a coin or rock, paper, scissors (best out of three) to decide which team goes first.
- First team to start will choose one player to pick a card from the pile and only read it to themselves.
  - The player has 5 seconds to read their card and then place it down away from the rest of the group.
- A team member of Team 2 will start the 60 seconds timer.
- Team 1’s player who read the card now has 60 seconds to sketch the word they read on their card.
  - They can not speak, write the word on the paper, or make physical gestures with their body to give a hint about the card’s content they read.
  - The rest of Team 1 must guess within the 60 seconds what is the drawing/card’s meaning while their team mate draws on the piece of paper.
  - If Team 1 guesses the card/drawing correctly (word for word) within 60 seconds, they receive a point. They also get to go again, but send a different team member to pick the card and draw while the rest of the team guesses again within 60 seconds.
  - If Team 1 does not guess the card correctly within 60 seconds, Team 2 gets one chance to guess what the card’s word was based on the drawing. If Team 2 guesses correctly they get to steal that one point for that round.
  - Team 2 starts their turn after Team 1 failed to guess the card’s word correctly, regardless if they stole the point or not.
- The first team to reach 18 points wins.
Game Cards
- The last row of blank cards are there if you want to write in some dog breeds or dog related words that you like.
